EQUINOX – the new premium class seat

Equinox – world premiere of a new standard of premium class seating

A world premiere: The new railway seat EQUINOX is a response to the constantly growing requirements and expectations of the global railway market. The new seat meets the highest innovation and functional standards with the target application for premium segment carriages. Modern construction with advanced materials have been applied for this model, enabling a significant reduction in a total weight. At the same time, the new seat fulfills the highest esthetic, ergonomic and strength standards along with restrictive flammability norms. Applied technologies allow a modular configuration of the seat, while universal construction enables various seat modifications reflecting individual customer needs.
